Training

Part 1

This guide will help you learn how to play Bloodway Infinity. In part, we will talk to you about how to set up the game so that it was as fast as possible for you and did not cause unnecessary difficulties. First, let's set up the graphics so that the game does not hang and give the maximum number of frames per second. Go to the Settings tab from the game's menu and select Graphics. We advise you to set such schedule settings.

This way you get maximum performance. After applying the settings, we recommend that you take a performance test to see if your PC is suitable for this game. After passing the test, you should get at least 60 frames per second, otherwise it will be difficult for you to play. After you set the graphics settings, go to the “Game” tab and configure the control for yourself. You configure them personally for yourself, we can’t give you any recommendations, except that lefties are better off playing O, K, L,:, and righties are on W, A, S, D.

After applying the settings, you can go into the game and check what you got. On this, the first lesson has exhausted itself, to continue learning, read the second part.

Part 2

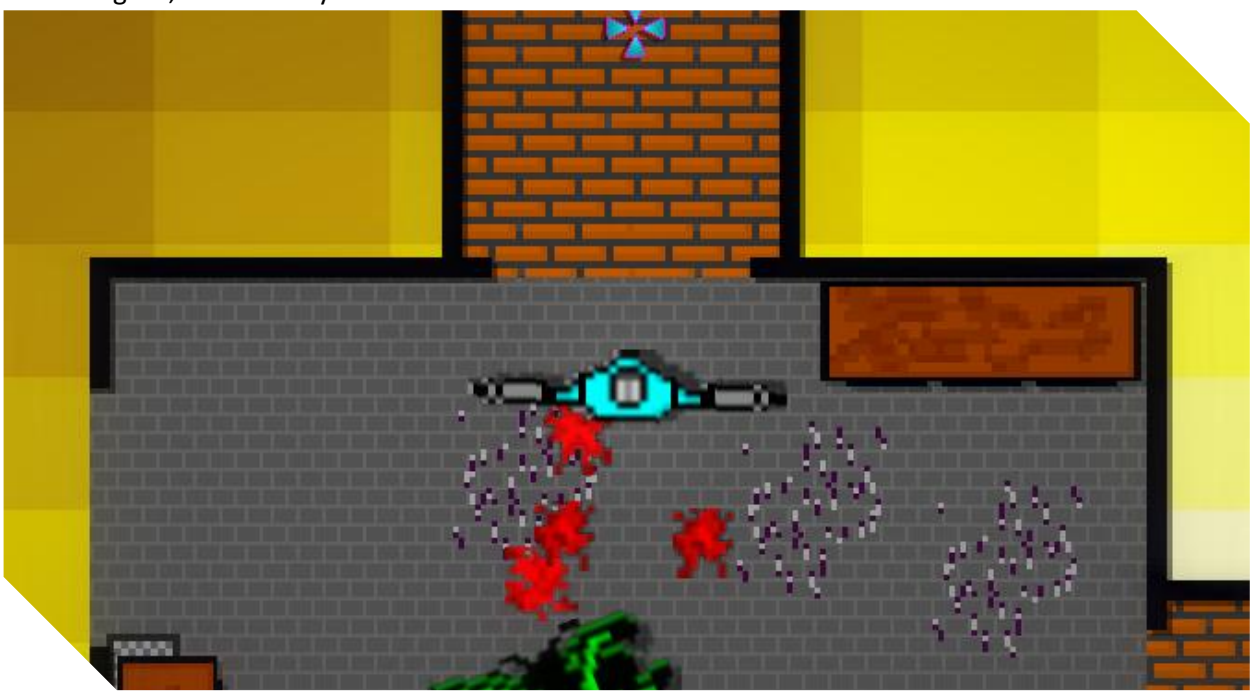

Welcome to the second part of the training for a professional game in Bloodway Infinity. In this lesson, we will talk with you about how to move and shoot correctly, and how and when to use the long-distance viewing mode. To get started, go to the "start a game" tab and select a new game. You will find yourself at the initial location, where we will work out techniques with you, and then you can independently try them in more difficult levels.

In the previous part, we talked with you about how to configure the management, and so now we will try it. Press the keys or W, A, S, D, or O, K, L,:,, or arrows, depending on your setting, to move around the game area. Move your mouse to aim your weapon at the target or click on the left mouse button to shoot. If you use knives or hands, press the left button to hit. If you were killed, press the R key to restart the level and start playing again.

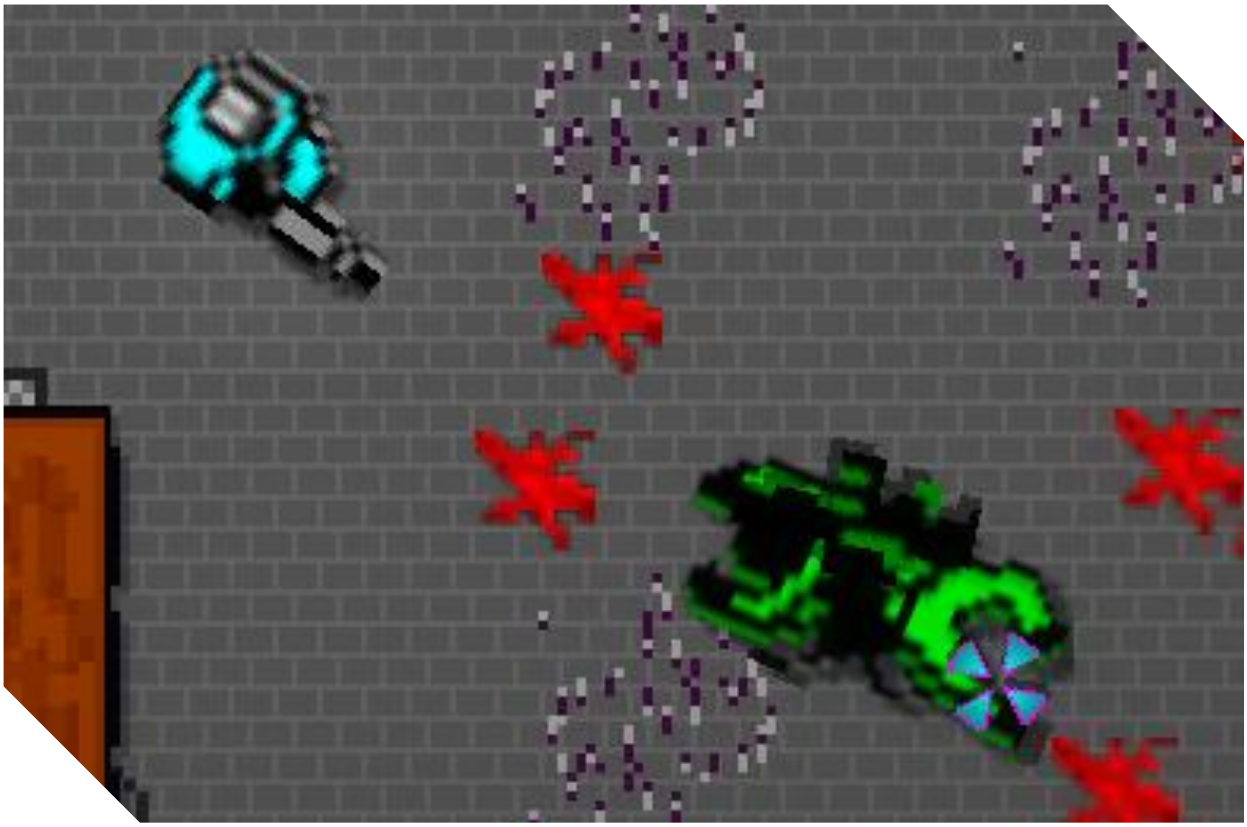

If during the game you run out of ammo, click on the middle button to throw it away, but keep in mind that the ammunition in this weapon is canceled, and on the middle to take a new one. If you take a machine gun at the same time when you already have another in your hands, you will get double machine guns, from them you can shoot to the sides.

Also, if a weapon is highlighted in red, it means there are definitely no cartridges in it. With thrown out weapons, as well as with your hand, you can stun the enemy.

If this happens, go to it and press the space bar to finish it. After you kill the enemy, you will see that his weapon has dropped out of him, you can pick him up and fight him.

This guide has exhausted itself, thanks for your attention, we wish you good luck in the game!
