Possum Hollow, 1986

The year had been quiet.
Everything seemed to be back to normal after last year's terrifying events.
No one talked about what happened in '85, but it was on everyone's mind as the cold winds swept back through the small town. Halloween was approaching...

Evil was stirring in the depths below the streets and homes of the town;
on Halloween it was about to surface.
It would be a night of tricks, not treats, for the Possum Hollow kids and the rest of its residents.
